* Our practice is to make comments, including names and home addresses of respondents, available for public review. Individual respondents may request that we withhold their home address from public disclosure, which we will honor to the extent allowable by law. There also may be circumstances in which we would withhold a respondent's identity from public disclosure, as allowable by law. If you wish us to withhold your name and/or address, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comment. We will make all submissions from organizations or businesses, and from individuals identifying themselves as representatives or officials of organizations or businesses, available for public disclosure in their entirety.

Comments are considered substantive if they:

- Question, with reasonable basis, the accuracy of the information in the document
- Question, with reasonable basis, the adequacy of the environmental analysis
- Present reasonable alternatives other than those presented in the Environmental Impact Statement
- Cause changes or revisions in the alternatives
- Provide new or additional information relevant to the analysis

Would like your name and address withheld from public disclosure*? YES NO

Comments: The principle item I would like to see addressed more is recycling/reuse of water within each district. That is:

1) What are recycling/purification plans where water is sufficiently pure for all uses?

2) What new &/or enhanced grey water uses are planned.

3) What state & federal laws need updating to permit more thorough reuse?

4) Are developers being required to participate by improving covenants to comply?

Comments (continued):

I am certain that there are more issues related to recycling & reuse that I have no substantive knowledge of, but (!!!) if we are not to have to go through this again in 25-35 yrs, I think we need to change law, spending priorities, attitudes, and our adversarial method of solving problems.

And — — the sooner the better.
