* Our practice is to make comments, including names and home addresses of respondents, available for public review. Individual respondents may request that we withhold their home address from public disclosure, which we will honor to the extent allowable by law. There also may be circumstances in which we would withhold a respondent's identity from public disclosure, as allowable by law. If you wish us to withhold your name and/or address, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comment. We will make all submissions from organizations or businesses, and from individuals identifying themselves as representatives or officials of organizations or businesses, available for public disclosure in their entirety.

Comments are considered substantive if they:

- Question, with reasonable basis, the accuracy of the information in the document
- Question, with reasonable basis, the adequacy of the environmental analysis
- Present reasonable alternatives other than those presented in the Environmental Impact Statement
- Cause changes or revisions in the alternatives
- Provide new or additional information relevant to the analysis

Would like your name and address withheld from public disclosure*? YES NO

Comments: Will minimum flow be maintained thru the tailwaters below the Pueblo Dam through Pueblo?

What would those flows be?

If water is taken above the confluence

what would the flood control measures be? on the fountain?

What is Colorado Springs doing to make the fountain creek suitable for people to use - IE recreational purposes? what are their future plans?

If a smaller city such as La Junta can use reverse osmosis to treat water why would it be so

Please continue on reverse side

U.S. Department of the Interior
Bureau of Reclamation

difficult for Colorado Springs to do the same?

Comments (continued):

Mitigation Measures do not list cities that are benefitting from proposal. Looks like most (all) are north of Pueblo

Need to spread min flow thru Pueblo spread through out the week Not 3 day flow

Thank you for your comments
